Dear Mr Wagner,

Enclosed is a $6⁰⁰ money order. Please send historical information on Colt Single Action (Bisley Model) 32-20 cal WCF Ser # 327 539. Most books say the Bisley Model was discontinued in 1912, yet my book shows this Serial # delivered in 1913. Is this correct?

Do you have historical data on Small frame conversions - assembled from previous parts? Also do you have historical data on the govt (martial) 1860 Army Model which were sent back to the factory & converted?

Thanks again. Robert G. Cox, MD

Dear Mr. Cox:

Reference is made to your recent letter requesting historical information on Colt Bisley Model Revolver #327539.

Upon researching our records, we located the information listed below which describes this arm as originally shipped from the factory in 1913:

Calibre	32/20
Barrel length	7 $\frac{1}{2}$ "
Finish	Nickel
Type of stocks	Not listed
Sold & shipped to	Richards & Conover Hdw.
Address	Kansas City, Mo.
Date of shipment	October 3, 1913
Number of same type guns in shipment	One

Manufacture of the Bisley Model was probably discontinued in 1912, but our records indicate the last of the Bisley Revolvers were assembled early in 1914 and shipments of approximately 200 of these models were made in 1913 and 1914.

Historical data is not available on Government 1860 Army Models returned to the factory for Conversion and only partial records are available on small frame conversion revolvers.

Yours truly

Dear Dr. Cox:

Noticed your ad in Riker. Service regarding your interest in old belt pistols. I also am a gun collector but I do not collect this type of gun but in my trading
I have a couple very excellent
Coat pistols as follows -
Coat Besley model, nickel 90% original finish still remaining it is a 32WS&F
Cal. & has a 7 1/2" bl.

Dear Dr Baker

I rec'd the Bisley Model 32-20 Colt
ok. I am happy with it altho it has seen more wear & has less finish than I expected. I will probably shoot it some because of this.

I am writing also to ask you to see if you can find the Colt letter
on this gun that you mentioned.
Also I would appreciate knowing who any of the previous owners so that I can run down some of the history on the gun.

If you run across any small Colt - designers, new line models, Hawk pistols etc
let me know.

Thanks.

Dear Mr Baker,

Thanks for your letter + descriptions
of the guns. The Bisley, 7 1/2" BBL 90% orig. finish, 12 WCF sounds like it would fit in my collection. I am sending a check for $135.00. If you can find the cart letter I would appreciate it + this always helps prove the gun
is original in finish + BBL length + stocks.

I have a couple like the Lightning
strokeguns model so will pass on it.

I will return the Bisley if not satisfied within 3 days of receiving it.
Please send P.P. Insured to above address.

Dear Mr. Jackson:

Enclosed are Colt letters on three of the double action 1878 revolvers and one single action- the one with the scratch engraving and the name on the butt. I was mixed up on the Bisley revolver as it was not the one that I intended to sell. If it has not been sold, then hold on to Bisley revolver- serial # 327539- 32 caliber- 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ inch barrel- nickel finish. On my next trip to Dallas I will bring the Bisley that I intended to sell.

Also we both forgot the sheriff's badge and wooden case for that single action # 353364. Thanks again for making the trip down here. I hope all the items move rapidly and present no problems.

Very truly yours,

Robert G. Cox, M. D., P. A.
